

BURSARIES IN JEWISH STUDIES (CSIC-UCM)

The project “Jewish Cultures across Mediterranean Europe” (J-Med), CSIC-UCM, invites applications for up to three-month study and/or research bursaries in the field of Jewish studies at the Spanish National Research Council (CSIC) and/or the Complutense University of Madrid (UCM), during the academic year 2021-2022, with a monthly stipend of 962 € and the option of an additional travel allowance of 270 €.

AIM

The grants are addressed to pre-doctoral students who have completed their degree after October 1, 2018, or those enrolled in a doctoral programme, and wish to continue research and specialization studies with scholars from the above mentioned academic institutions.

The centers eligible for application are the Institute of Languages and Cultures of the Mediterranean and the Near East (ILC) of the Center for Human and Social Sciences (CCHS) of the CSIC, as well as the Hebrew and Aramaic Studies Section of the Faculty of Philology of the UCM.

PROFILE AND REQUIREMENTS FOR CANDIDATES

The grants are addressed to university students from Spain (except those previously enrolled in any academic institution of the Community of Madrid), Portugal and other European countries, especially those of the Mediterranean area.

Eligible candidates must be pre-doctoral students with a degree or master's degree in Jewish studies, Hebrew (or Semitic philology with major in Hebrew), or equivalent studies by country of origin, and other research disciplines with interest in Jewish studies.

The grant period, up to three months, must take place between November 1, 2021 and June 30, 2022, being required residence in Madrid during the period awarded, exceptionally permitting absence during short periods duly justified.

The recipients of the grants will participate in the activities organized by the project “Jewish Cultures across Mediterranean Europe” (www.jmed.eu). Those awarded will be responsible for their own travel and accommodation arrangements and health insurance.

SUBMISSION OF APPLICATIONS

Candidates must submit their application, by filling out the form and uploading the required documents, at
